HALLOWEEN CARDS for KIDS with APRAXIA or are NON-VERBAL

We are proud of our littlest clients for all of their efforts. So for Halloween, we wanted to share these cards with them.

Use the cards to educate your neighbors by letting them know that your child has Apraxia of Speech or is non-verbal and that nothing will stop them from getting their Halloween treats!

For kids that don't want to tell anyone they are non-verbal, you can use the cards on the last page. They can be glued back to back and attached to a stick or wand. Show the first side when asking for candy. Show the second side before leaving.

How to Use the Cards (from a speech therapist's perspective):

- Have your child ring the bell.
- Have your child give the card or show the sign to the adult at the door (great for communication practice)
- When your child gets their treat, have them show the "thank you" side (of the 3rd page sign). Your child can also use the ASL sign for "Thank You."
- Have Fun! Remember, you don't have to explain anything so someone just because they are a neighbor. Do what feels right. Just enjoy trick or treating with your child and watch them have a blast as they get (too much) candy.

I have Apraxia of Speech
so it's hard for me to say Trick or Treat!
but I'm trying!

Thank you and Happy Halloween!
